To whom it may concern:

It is my pleasure to give a letter of recommendation to Mike Taylor and Taylor and Son Company.

Mr. Taylor's group has always treated me and my company with courtesy and professionalism. They have fulfilled or exceeded all agreements within agreed upon terms and arrangements and have always gone the "extra mile" when asked to. We also expect to do the same when they call on us.

In the several years that I have known and worked with Taylor Construction, I have yet to hear anything negative about their work or how they conduct day to day business. This is something that is extremely rare in the construction industry. It has always been a pleasure working with the group and I look forward to a continued working partnership in the future.

Sincerely;

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads 'Clayton Yawn'.
